The rear yard is currently planted with flowering shrubs and a good selection of fruit trees. There are three separate lock up garden sheds for the tenants to store extra items, however there is the space to build another spacious home.

This is a great opportunity for the investor showing a good rental return with approximately $760-$800 in weekly rental potential available.

There is no work to do on this one! Make your investment earn you money straight away! With a lot of investors opting to put their money into solid real estate rather than the volatile share and superannuation marketplace, it makes good sense to secure this property given the great location, no maintenance and an opportunity to grow the return with another dwelling on the site.

These sort of properties are rare so be quick to secure a viewing of this property.
