As is the standard with a home of this era, all bedrooms are more than accommodating. The main features a study nook and spacious en-suite with claw foot bath. The second bedroom also has the advantage of extra space which could be used as a walk-in or second study area.

The kitchen in this home is abundant with storage and counter space. The Tassie oak timber suits the character of the home and a butler's pantry, double wall oven and gas cook top will ensure that your needs are met however big the feast.

Perhaps the icing on the cake with this property is the 1590sqm block size, you would be forgiven for thinking that the shed, veggie garden, chicken coop were part of a neighbouring property but no, it really is all yours and the uses and potential of this property are limited only by your imagination!

Owners will be sad to leave this beautiful home and caring community but are serious about selling and opportunities to secure an original home in the village of Clunes don't come around often! Be quick to arrange inspection.
